

07/03/2013

New contract for the supply of special type anchored elastomeric bearings

ELEMKA signed a new contract for the supply of 68 pieces of special type anchored elastomeric bearings (142 pieces in total) for the construction of the overpass junction linking the new port of Patras, a project being executed by TERNA ENERGY S.A. The deliveries will proceed gradually and are expected to be completed by May 2013.